

On the Run

A game for two players. Decide who will be the fox and who will be the hen. The fox must place their counter in one of the five hexagons on the top row. The hen must place their counter in one of the four hexagons on the bottom row. Taking turns, move your counter to any hexagon which shares an edge with the hexagon you are on, answering the questions you land on. If your answer is incorrect, move your counter back to the previous position. If the fox captures the hen by landing on the same hexagon as the hen, the fox wins. If the hen manages to reach the opposite end of the board without being captured, the hen wins.
